Travel update

We are writing to you from Rhode Island today. On Saturday, we will take the ferry up to Martha's Vineyard, Massachusetts to speak at a church there. Last Sunday we shared with a church in Maryland and they will be joining our support team, and two weeks ago we shared with a missions committee at a church in Delaware, who will be meeting and discussing whether or not to support; please be praying for this committee as they deliberate.

We have really enjoyed our time here and have been able to visit some of Jonas' Amish family while we were in Delaware, as well as see the house that he was born in (pictured here).

Emma has really enjoyed this trip and really loves everything about the beach. She enjoys digging her toes in the sand, sitting on the shoreline, splashing her hands in the water, and trying to gnaw on sea shells and sea grass, or really anything she can try and out in her mouth.

Life update

This week, Jonas has started online classes again with Houston Baptist University for his Master's degree in Apologetics. He took a break while we had Emma, but is excited to get back to it. After we leave Massachusetts, we will head back to Chicago for a few nights and then to Nebraska for about a month, with other short trips as well. Since March, we have driven over 10,000 miles and been in more than 20 churches.

Percentage

We are at 24%! Praise God that our percent is on the rise!

We have several appointments with churches coming up, so please be praying for these meetings. If you missed any of our previous updates, you can find them here

Please be praying for:

Please be praying for:

- Our speaking engagements and travel
- Jonas' school work
- Our loneliness. It can be so hard to constantly travel and not feel like we are connected to our community. We would love for you to reach out and send us an encouraging word or Bible verse to help remind us that you are our community.
